LOUDET,
PHOTOGRAPHER,
344—CALLE PIEDAD—344.
Mons. LOUDET,

Begs to inform the Public of Buenos Ayres and the Argentine Republic, that he continues to take Photographs for the Carte de Visite, full length, and in every other style.

Mons. Loudet visited the Great Exhibition of Paris in 1867, in order to make himself, thoroughly and practically acquainted with every improvement in the above important art; and, since his return from Europe, he has placed his Establishment on precisely the same footing as those of the first Photographers in Paris, London, and the principal cities of Europe. The Apparatus, has been selected from the most approved of these in the Paris Exhibition, several of the inventions having received Prize Medals, among which may be mentioned those of Dallmeyer, of Loudon, &c.

Voigtlander e Sohn. The saloons [in which may be included the Atelier] are handsomely furnished and commodious.

Mons. LOUDET feels the most perfect confidence in saying he can produce likenesses in every aspect, infinitely superior to those which have already met with such unbounded approbation from the distinguished Public of Buenos Ayres.

The Public are respectfully invited to inspect the Gallery. 98,f16

It being an admitted fact, that "Money makes money," the object of LA BIENHECHORA could not be better, since it opens a vast Savings Bank for the surplus or savings of the Public, so that, by the proper employment of these small gains, a moderate capital, or even annuity, may be secured in a short time. By this means a provident, though helpless, family can husband their small means, and, in the end, attain a competency.

It being proved that the accumulation of interest is the most powerful means of augmenting the capital, THE BIENHECHORA DEL PLATA—an Argentine Company, whose only investments are in the country—holds out to Subscribers greater advantages than any other Institution, by reason of all its dealings being in the River Plate, where are current as large interests as in any part of the world.

THE ENGLISH CHURCH.

Religious ceremonies, properly speaking, have no place in the columns of a newspaper. American editors sometimes treat their readers to what they call a religious column, giving the sermons in the different churches on the Sabbath; but as a rule people prefer to find other matter in a newspaper than long dissertations on theological subjects. Aware of this, we rarely intrude such matter on the attention of our readers, but the ceremony at the English Church on Sunday partook of historic associations. For the first time since Solis discovered the Plate, an English bishop has set foot upon these shores; and for the first time since Buenos Ayres was founded, English Protestants in the Plate have had an opportunity of receiving the rites of confirmation, which in the Catholic Church is a sacrament, but in the Protestant Episcopalian is only a rite.

There was something so solemn in the ceremony, so impressive in the imposition of hands, and the prayer o the Bishop for each of the kneeling neophytes, that we confess we were well pleased at having overcome our scruples on the occasion.

It was a scene that with difficulty can be repeated, for, owing to the peculiar circumstances, old age lent a greater charm to it than even youth and beauty; men and women in the sunset of life approached the rail, and knelt side by side with neophytes of one and two generations later. The bright, happy, beaming child, and the furrowed octogenarian—all knelt on equal terms before their God.

Such scenes form, as it were, an oasis in the dreary desert of life, and, lifting us from the contemplation of human affairs, bring us in communion with all that improves, edifies, and ennobles man.

Owing to the number of neophytes at an early hour the English Church was crowded; all the front and centre pews in the church were specially set apart for the ladies, who, dressed with great simplicity, and divested of all, the borrowed plumage of the world, wore upon the head a plain white veil.

The street in front of the church was lined with carriages, and at 11 o'clock every seat was occupied, whilst at the porticoes crowds were compelled to stand.

The Rev. J. Chubb Ford read the morning service, which we understand was somewhat abbreviated for the occasion.

Lord Hervey read the first lesson.

The Rev. Mr. Shields, of Fray Bentos, read the second lesson.

At the conclusion of the morning service Lord Hervey read the commission from the Bishop of London.

The Bishop of Honolulu then gave a short but very impressive exhortation to the neophytes, explaining the rite of confirmation, which his Lordship said partook of a sacrament, and was akin to baptism, but not of the rank. He compared the rite of confirmation to, as it were, a renewal of the oath of allegiance by a soldier. He adverted to the excellence of confirmation in a religious point of view, and offered up a fervent prayer for the neophytes, who then, all standing, beautifully chanted—

> The trivial round, the common task,
> Would furnish all we ought to ask
> Room to deny ourselves; a road
> To bring us daily nearer God.

The choir then intoned 'Veni Creator,' during which the neophytes all knelt, and at 1·30 the ceremony of confirmation began.

The Bishop approached and sat on a large chair in front of the communion rail, whilst the ladies, proceeding up the middle aisle, took their places kneeling before his Lordship.

The arrangements could not have been more complete; there was no rush or squeeze, everything orderly and well directed, and by an exceedingly well timed arrangement the procession began with the more elderly portion of the lady neophytes, and then descending according to age concluded with the children.

The male neophytes then approached the rail: we noticed among them gentlemen of the first position in our community.

The administering of confirmation occupied more than an hour. There was something most touchingly solemn and sublime in the ceremony, where the Bishop, placing his hand on the head of the kneeling neophyte, and with upturned countenance, invokes aloud, saying—

> "Defend, O Lord, this thy servant with thy heavenly grace, that he may continue thine for ever, and daily increase in thy Holy Spirit more and more, until he come into thy everlasting Kingdom—Amen."

To increase the interest of this imposing ceremony, one of the neophytes was a poor aged black man, well known to English residents as 'Davy;' but religion knows no distinction of color or race, and the humble neophyte found himself on this solemn occasion on a level with the wealthiest and richest of the land.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the Bishop offered up a fervent prayer aloud, and then ascending the pulpit preached an excellent, eloquent, and impressive sermon, adverting to the necessity of a strict observance of religious duties, and touching on the early history of the church. The sermon was listened to with profound attention, His Lordship having an excellent delivery and a good voice.

The congregation then chaunted Hymn 181, and receiving the Bishop's blessing the ceremonies terminated.

IMPORTANT FROM THE UNITED STATES.

[From our Special Lady Correspondent]

New York, April 28, 1869.

Messrs. Editors,

The great sensation, the principal topic of conversation in all circles for the past fortnight, has been Spain. The insults offered to the American flag created a wild excitement for a few days. Our Secretary of State immediately demanded satisfaction. Sr. Roberts, Minister Plenipotentiary from Spain, at once telegraphed to his Government for instructions, and the result was, orders to apologise and to promise full indemnification for all injuries done to American shipping by Spanish officials.

The United States Government subsequently demanded the release of the two Cuban passengers who had been taken from an American schooner. Liberty was accorded them, or at least they were delivered into the custody of the American Consul at Remedios. At present there are no serious complications with Spain, nevertheless we are preparing a fleet of iron-clads which will leave in the course of a few days for the West Indies, to protect our citizens and our commercial interests in those quarters.

Our sympathies are in favour of the insurgents, or, as they should be termed, "patriots" of Cuba; but national honor compels us to hold inviolate the treaty existing with Spain. Moreover, we feel disposed to give the Spaniards a chance to establish a republic in the Peninsula. Now that they have just freed themselves from monarchical bonds—have proclaimed civil and religious liberty, freedom of the press, and accorded the right of representation in the National Cortes to Cuba, it does not seem fair to interfere.

We are suprised that the Home Government permits Captain-General Dulce to exercise such unlimited sway in Cuba; his confiscation of the estates of absentees suspected of disloyalty may be in accordance with the laws, in case of rebellion—at least, he can point to many precedents—but in his zeal to serve his Government, he lays such restrictions upon the commerce of the island as to injure all parties. Evidently Dulce is not the man for the times: his political views are too contracted.

Madame Rumor says Great Britain is about to recognize the belligerent rights of Cuba, and, as if in confirmation of this report, we have just received intelligence from Nassau to the effect that the Spanish naval officers who recently demanded the surrender of those Cubans engaged in the capture of the steamer Commandatorio, were referred to London for a settlement of the affair, the 'insurgent Cubans' meantime enjoying the protection, if not the hospitality, of English officials in Nassau.

The project of buying Cuba—id est, if such be the desire of the majority of its inhabitants—is freely discussed in the United States. It is whispered that England objects to this arrangement—nous verrons.

By your files of United States journals received per steamer of 23rd inst. from New York, you have learned that our Government has rejected the late Clarendon-Johnson treaty with regard to the Alabama claims. Some of our statesmen propose to make overtures to England to transfer Canada to us by way of indemnification for the injuries inflicted upon our commerce by the Alabama during the recent rebellion. That idea is perhaps well enough, but it seems rather rash if not boyish, for Representatives to speak so flippantly as they do of a war with a nation as powerful as our 'hereditary foe.' We are still burdened with the expenses of our late civil strife. Taxation is a moth which chafes the people sorely. The Southern States, though restored to the Union, are still virtually disorganized, a large portion of their arable lands are lying waste and desolate for want of harmonious action between white employers and black labourers: moreover, being more inclined to commercial pursuits than to roar, it is not likely that the 'sovereign people' will endorse the policy of belligerent statesmen.

The Alabama claims will doubtless remain in 'statu quo' until the recently appointed Minister to England, Motley, (the historian), enters upon the discharge of his official duties, and then some amicable arrangement will perhaps be made. Understand me, Messrs. Editors, we would brook no insult to our national honor, no infringement upon our rights. Being able to bring into the field a million of volunteers, (better fighting material, you must admit, than mercenary soldiers), and possessing such a navy as we do, with abundant facilities for quickly augmenting its force, holding too almost half of a rich continent wherewith to support our armies, we cannot fear England, or even a coalition of Great Britain, France, and Spain; but North Americans prefer to devote all their energies to the material and intellectual development of the United States, and certainly, we have no need of more territory. Have we not within our boundaries the productions of the Temperate, Torrid, and Frigid Zones? Have we not unlimited agricultural resources, and inexhaustible mineral wealth! In a word, we are self-reliant, so all the probabilities are in favor of peace, whatever the bellicose journalists may tell you.

The "Tenure of Office Act" still continues in force. The House of Representatives was in favor of its repeal, but the Senate, though in a large majority inclined to leave Grant untrammelled, could not abrogate the law, without giving the world reason to suppose its passage was owing to personal rancor against Andrew Johnson. If the President yielded quietly, because at this particular juncture an imbroglio with the Senate would lead to serious complications, why then, we may be on the 'qui vive' for a 'flank movement' to recover the right hitherto enjoyed by the chief executive (except in the case of Johnson) but from the confirmations of Grant's official appointments, there is every reason to believe mutual concessions have been made.

The Spanish mission has not yet been filled. Mr. Hale, Minister to Madrid, has been recalled, and Grant has nominated Gen. Sickles to succeed him. This nomination will undoubtedly be confirmed, as the Government desires to reward Sickles for his services during the rebellion.

Congress adjourned on the 23d inst., not to re-assemble until December. The closing session of the Senate was disgraced by a bitter quarrel between Senator Sprague of Rhode Island, and Senator Abbott of South Carolina. The Southerner demanded the retraction of certain offensive epithets used by the gentleman from the North. Sprague maintained a stubborn silence. Abbott prepared a formal challenge to mortal combat, but as duelling is quite unpopular here, Congressmen, friends of both parties, interfered and advised mutual explanations. Washington was kept in a fever of excitement until yesterday, when Mr. Sprague explained that when speaking of monopolists and Congress, he had compared the former to a puppy-dog and the latter to a mastiff; he had no intention of applying the term 'puppy-dog' to the honorable Senator from South Carolina, but the brusque retort of the Southerner had been of such a character as to prevent any explanation at that time; it was offered now in compliance with the wishes of mutual friends, etc. On receipt of this intelligence, Mr. Abbott in return made a manly apology for having accused Sprague of skulking out of the Senate Chamber, and so ends this fiasco, which for several days had occupied gossips and penny-a-liners.

To-day we learn per telegraph that the Mexican Congress has authorised President Juarez to acknowledge the belligerent rights of the insurgent Cubans.

We are pleased with recent accounts of the increased trade of Buenos Ayres, and hope it will be such as to warrant the establishment of a line of steamers between your capital and New York. Our people consider the efforts of your President to encourage agriculture a strong proof of his wisdom. The efforts on the part of President Sarmiento to develop the material resources of his country, and his unrelaxing labors in the cause of popular education will make his administration one ever remarkable in the annals of the Argentine Republic, a bright page in your national history.

O.

THE BANDA ORIENTAL WAR.

COMMENCEMENT OF HOSTILITIES

MAXIMO PEREZ JOINS THE GOVERNMENT.

SKIRMISH NEAR SANTA LUCIA.

While President Batlle devotes his leisure to letter-writing Caraballo shows rather a disposition for fighting, and on Saturday (12th inst.) a brush occurred between some outposts in which the rebels took the Government men by surprise. There is no account of any killed or wounded on either side, but it is not likely that the main bodies of the belligerents knew anything of the matter, as it occurred near the Santa Lucia Chica. The delay in active operations may be explained by the anxiety of President Batlle not to risk anything till joined by Maximo Perez, who passed through San José on Saturday with a force of 800 men, expecting to reach Calhagua the same night and incorporate with the President, who was also marching thither from Florida. Major Tolosa, who had gone over to Maximo Perez with 200 men, has again changed sides and gone back to the rebels. Meantime, Caraballo will probably lose no time to effect a junction with his brother somewhere near the Rio Negro, and the hostile armies will be then pretty fairly balanced, each having about 1,500 men [mostly cavalry], and a couple of field pieces. Caraballo was apparently mistaken in calculating on Maximo Perez as an ally, but he has several minor chieftains at his encampment, viz., Tolosa, Belen, Valiente, Mora, and others; it is said that Gen. Caraballo is raising men for him in Minas, but this is doubtful. President Batlle has met with no support from the northern departments as yet, nor is it likely the people of Tacuarembo and Cerro Largo will be eager to embroil themselves in the struggle. The Uruguay districts are almost entirely in the hands of the rebels Goyo Suarez continues gathering men in the departments of Minas and Maldonado; latest accounts of him are up to the 8th inst., when he declared himself more inclined to Government than to Caraballo, but insists that the President must dismiss Minister Bustamante.

The Electric Telegraph Company has established a new office pro tem. at Canelones. The wires from San José announce that President Battle, on giving command of the vanguard to Maximo Perez, will march towards Durazno. It would be difficult to guess the purport of such a move, unless it be merely to pretend that the Government army is not idle.

From Paysandú we hear that the town folk are all hostile to the rebellion, and the troops sent up from Montevideo will be received with open arms. Colonel Regules and his band of rebels were by latest dates near the Arroyo Negro.

From Salto the intelligence is doubtful, one version being that Colonel Castro is a rebel in disguise; another, that he is indignant at such an aspersion.

The passes of the Rio Negro are so swollen that it is thought Manuel Caraballo will find some difficulty in crossing it to effect a junction with the rebel main body under his brother. If the President were a man of energy he would march at once with Maximo Perez to fight Caraballo, and this would decide this tiresome campaign at a blow.

Goyo Suarez seems to have counted without his host, all his efforts to raise an army resulting in vain. His magniloquent proclamations for all 'friends of the Constitution' to join his standard have been lost to the patriots of the red ribbon. Last week he had only 17 followers.

The city of Montevideo remains perfectly quiet, and the authorities contradict the rumour that a band of 100 gauchos had been seen near the bar of Santa Lucia.

There is very little public feeling with reference to the rival parties of Colorados, and nobody pays the slightest attention to the statement that the Blancos have sided with the rebels. They feel the most profound contempt for Colorados of every stamp, and are not the kind of men to side with the fellows who have thrown up the poncho under Caraballo.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The Savoie (Bonnemason line) arrived on Sunday morning at Montevideo from Marseilles. She brings dates from Europe to the 14th, the same as the packet. The Patagonia had not arrived in Rio up to the 8th. She is daily expected in Montevideo. The Savoie made a fine run out, and brought a large number of passengers. Owing to her not having a clean bill of health she was placed in quarantine for some hours.

The news from the neighboring capital still continues of the most contradictory character. Maximo Perez, with his force of 800 men, being now represented as a staunch friend of the Government once more. President Battle is certainly not quite the man for the situation, and has probably ere this more than once wished that some one would "save him from his friends!" Tolosa, it appears, is again in motion with a few followers.

A Rosario colleague publishes a rather important rumor relative to the removal of the capital. Our contemporary asserts that Dr. Ruiz Moreno who may be supposed to have some inkling of what goes on in official quarters, has stated in a letter to a friend that in case the Deputies vote the removal of the capital to Rosario, it is the fixed intention of the National Executive to veto the measure. Although the rumor may be premature, we think it more than probable that the Government will adopt the course referred to.

The Spanish frigate Concepcion now stationed at Rio has been ordered to Montevideo during the continuance of the present revolutionary movement.

The National Government certainly deserves credit for the efforts it is making in spite of adverse circumstances, to open up the interior of the country. Two most important road contracts have lately been effected; the first being for the construction of a highway between Barrancas, in Cordova, to Orquetas, in Catamarca, a distance of 45 leagues; the second joins Rioja and Catamarca by a road through Villa Prima, Don Diego, and other small towns. The benefit these new arteries will prove to both provinces cannot be over estimated.

We observe that at the late general meeting of the directors of the San Juan Mining Company at their head office in London it was stated that the mines are at present in a condition to yield upwards of one hundred ounces of gold daily. This is certainly good news both for the shareholders and those interested in the mining prospects of the Argentine Confederation.

The lawsuit before the English courts between Messrs. Blyth and Don Nicolas Calvo about supplying arms to the Paraguayans has resulted in a verdict for Mr. Blyth.

We recommend those of our readers who have not yet been to see the 'Megatherium' to lose no time in paying the fossil remains of the antediluvian monster a visit in his present temporary vault at Messrs. Fusoni's, as Mr. Pozzi has already received the most tempting offers from several parties and the Government—one enterprising foreigner offering the apparently fabulous sum of 100,000 francs. The specimen is the finest and most perfect in the world, and took the discoverer nearly four years to put together. It stands over 6 feet high, 14 in diameter and 19 long. There is not a single bone missing, whilst those of Madrid and London want several ribs and joints.

At the last meeting of the Society of Arts in London, one of the longest established in the kingdom, some highly important data and information respecting the resources of the River Plate were brought forward. The Spanish statistician, Señor Marcoartu stated as a curious fact that the exportation from the Banda Oriental to England, taken per head of the respective populations, was eight times larger than that of Spain, and that the imports compared in the same way were eleven times in favour of the Uruguay Republic. Although Spain be the most backward country in Europe, the comparison is highly creditable to these countries, and proves to what a high commercial position the River Plate might aspire if wise legislation and internal peace were brought to bear on the development of the natural wealth of these Republics.

The Gualeguay papers state that a pest has appeared amongst cattle in that district of so severe a character, that in herds of from 1,500 to 2,000 head as many as 40 animals die daily. The estancieros in the department are completely at a loss how to treat the epidemic, and to make matters worse a great many sheep have fallen victims to the late change in the weather, the recently dropped lambs dying in considerable numbers from the frosts now prevalent at night.

It is said that the Plaza Parque is about to be turned into a kind of People's Park, and will be laid out as a garden in the English style, with gravel walks, fountains, statues, &c. That this would be a vast improvement on the present neglected state of this fine plaza, it is needless to say, but the railway now running through its centre is the great obstacle. Our valued contemporary, "Le Courrier de la Plata," makes the suggestion that the terminus should be transferred to the Artillery Depot, the present railway station being easily convertible at little cost into a magazine. A People's Park is much wanted here; and we should be very glad to see this 'on dit' about the Plaza Parque assume some practical shape.

Many of the carriage and cart-owners of the city intend to present the municipal taxman on his next visit with a little bill for the mending of wheels and springs, which they justly consider should be deducted from the amount claimed from them for carriage tax, in consequence of the injuries their vehicles suffer from the shocking state of the street pavements. On the broad shoulders of the Waterworks is thrown the blame for the present state of many of our streets, but although such may be justified in some thoroughfares, most of our leading streets were a disgrace, from a pavier's point of view, long before the works so ably conducted by our friend Sir John Coghlan were thought of.

We had the pleasure yesterday of a visit from Mr Rumball on his return to the Plate. He leaves in a few days for the South to survey the ground for the proposed extension of the Southern Railway. Mr Rumball is at present directing the construction of several lines of railway in the south of Russia, and has been since he left us through Egypt, Turkey, the Caucasus, and other historical regions of the famed East. We feel pleasure in renewing the expression of our pleasure at seeing him again in the Plate.

H.E. Sr Paranhos, Brazilian Special Envoy, leaves for Asuncion on the 17th, Thursday next. Rumour assigns the formation of a Provisional Government in Asuncion as the principal object of the distinguished diplomatist's trip up the river.

The news brought by the steamer Tebicuari from Asuncion on Sunday is not of importance. There is nothing whatever new from the Allied Camp. The invading forces continue to advance slowly into the interior of Paraguay, every day proving more and more Lopez's inability to offer any effectual opposition to their progress.—A guerilla warfare is now the only expedient open to the Paraguayan President.

Civil pensioner and horse leech are almost synonymous terms. A number of individuals in this province who enjoy the privilege of living on the public money in return for trivial or imaginary services rendered to the State, have had the modesty to present a petition to the Government of the Province, begging that the Chambers may sanction an increase of 100 per cent. on their pensions! The modesty of this request, under present financial circumstances, is highly creditable to the petitioners.

We must again call the attention of the Gas Company to the universal complaints of the quality of the gas now supplied. We heard yesterday that the present defective illuminating power of the gas is due to the superabundance of ammonia contained in it arising from its not being thoroughly purified. We can scarcely believe that any false motives of economy would be allowed to enter into the calculations of a Company enjoying such a flourishing monopoly; and we think the managers should at once set themselves right with the public on this point, more particularly as impure gas is most prejudicial to the public health.

We call the attention of our readers of all classes to the fact that the issue of 'patentes' for this year closes to-day, the fine for non-payment coming in full force on to-morrow.

We were yesterday favored with a visit from Colonel Czetz, who has just returned from his arduous duties on the frontier. The gallant Colonel informed us that he had examined and traversed altogether a hundred leagues of open frontier with an escort of only seven men. After a few days' rest he again sets out to resume his labours. He promises us some interesting details of his trip to the Pampas.

This afternoon Messrs. Nazar will sell by auction a very valuable property in Calle Rivadavia, only 2½ squares from the Plaza Victoria. Its area is 17½ varas by 'fonda completo,' and the situation is one of the best in the city; the 'finca' consists of altos and bajos, including the commercial house of Eallmaan & Co., with large deposit stores, &c. It was the property of the late Sra. Martinez de Vianco. The sale takes place at 3 p.m.

THE BRIGAND OF LUJAN.

To the Editors of the Standard.

Gentlemen,

As one interested in the state of the camp, it was with pleasure I read in your edition of yesterday of the scene enacted in Lujan last week. One act of that sort will have more effect in showing Gauchos what the requirements of the present day are than all the 'edictos' Mr O'Gorman might publish in a year.

It is a well known fact that assassins are cowards, and no man in the world is more ready to take a life, or more careful of his own, than the vagrant cutthroat horsestealing gaucho. Peñalva was the genuine type of such.

No greater favour could have been conferred on the residents of Lujan than ridding the partido of such a scoundrel.

The Juez de Paz, Lescano, deserves every praise for his firm determination in this matter, and he may feel assured that he has raised himself 50 per cent. in the estimation of all the foreigners of Lujan.

This Peñalva has been the terror of the partido for years, and it has fallen to the happy lot of Mr Lescano to clear him off. There are a few more who will probably put up their 'facones' and clear to other districts further out, as they may well believe that roaming murderers will henceforth meet a quick despatch in the partido of Lujan.

Yours truly,

CAMPERO.

TAX ON WOOL.

To the Editors of the "Standard."

Gentlemen,

Now that our feast days are over, I trust you will not lose sight of the all important item which you have so ably handled lately, viz., "The Export Tax on Wool." We have finished our May festivals with a 'lujo' more Parisian than Buenos Ayrean; if gloves, pearls, diamonds, silks, satins, and laces, are an evidence of our progress, we are certainly the most progressive people in the world. A stranger dropping in amongst us this week would certainly think he had at last hit on the real El Dorado—fatal error! In a two hours' chat with one of our sensible merchants he would soon discover how artificial our progress is. 'En fin,' I hope you will never cease till that unjust and unbearable wool tax is removed. Let the imports be taxed; let an income tax be put on. But the farmer already pays his full quota of taxation in every way; and, why? I ask, why should he be overtaxed beyond all comparison? moreover when he can't afford it. I am sure our worthy President will not fail to hear the voice of the 500 ruined sheepfarmers from Lujan, and if they are not attended to I beg to suggest that a meeting of Irish, English, Scotch, and American sheepfarmers take place here on the 3rd of July, and march in a body to the President on the 4th, that memorable day when the Stars and Stripes first floated on the breeze of liberty. Let each partido send two, three, or four men to represent them. There's plenty of time to organize; let them be up and stirring. If they don't agitate they will get nothing; therefore, I hope this last resource will not be lost sight of. Nothing in the world easier than each partido to have its men here on the 3rd of July. They will get plenty of English merchants here to head the deputation, and I am sure when the matter is so forcibly put to our worthy chief magistrate, he will not fail to sweep off this iniquitous wool tax.

Hoping this will receive the attention it deserves from the camp,

I am, gentlemen, yours truly,

A SHEEPFARMER.

MR. HENLEY, THE FLAX-GROWER.

AGRICULTURE IN THE RIVER PLATE.

I have travelled 250 miles north of Montevideo, in the Banda Oriental 60 miles north of Buenos Ayres; 150 miles south of the same, and 500 miles to the north-west; and over the whole of this, with the exception of a few swampy places, and that upon which timber is growing, I did not see an acre of land which does not, in my opinion, offer every inducement for emigrants to settle upon.

Let me now mention what I have done there myself since May last. I broke up with Bentball's cultivator 150 acres of land, 40 of which I sowed with wheat, 60 with flax, and 50 with maize. The wheat crop failed, and from three causes: first, I sowed the wrong seed, next I sowed it two months too late, and, lastly, wheat should not have been sown at all, as it does not thrive there the first season. My maize when I left was not ready for harvest, so that I cannot tell you the yield of it; all the natives, however, said it looked splendid. My flax crop turned out exceedingly well, and yielded an average of 20 bushels of seed and 2 tons of straw per acre. For the seed I have been offered 15s. per bushel, and for the straw £4 10s. per ton—in all, £24 per acre. The cost of growing, harvesting, and seeding a crop of flax need never exceed £4 per acre; and as land can be purchased within easy distance of a railway station at 10s. per acre, to be paid for by five yearly instalments of 2s. each, what can a man wish for more?

During my stay I visited a Swiss colony, of about 5,000 persons to Entre Rios. They have only been there two years and a half, and last season they sent 12,000 sacks of wheat to B. Ayres for sale. The yield, they told me, was 80 sacks for every sack sown. In addition to this, they grew maize, flax [for the seed only] and potatoes, and one man informed me he grew three crops of flax in one year. A more thriving-looking place I have seldom seen. In another part of the country a gentleman has enclosed a square mile of camp, and ploughed it up for wheat. When I was there he was harvesting his crop, and, as near as I could judge, he had from seven to eight sacks per acre, worth about 26s per sack. First class wheat was quoted in B. Ayres when I left at 40s to 42s per sack.

The best land I have seen lies along the line of the Great Central Argentine Railway, leading from Rosario to Cordova. Here there are millions of acres, of a slightly undulating character, and with a soil from six feet to ten feet in depth, with not a tree or bit of scrub to impede the plough, and all of it lying idle for want of hands to till it. With oxen and horses at 50s each, what better opening could a man have?

Touching the laborer, the ordinary rate of wages is not so high where I have been as Mr. Jessop mentions. I have, however, a letter in my pocket from a gentleman out there, offering to provide 500 acres of land, to be increased hereafter to 5000, together with houses, food, horses, oxen, seed, implements, &c., for any laborers who may be sent out to him; and so soon as the cost of the food consumed by them is paid for, he is willing to share the profits with them, one-half going to the master, the other to be divided amongst the men.

With such an arrangement as this, each labourer ought to earn at least £100 per annum — no bad return for his services, to my thinking; and this, in my opinion, may be made with proper management to develop a system of emigration which shall be self-supporting, as no labourer should object, if these profits are realised by him, to set apart a portion of his earnings for the purpose of bringing out more people, the money to be repaid by them in a similar manner.

I could give you much more information upon this subject, but fear to trespass too much upon your time and space. I will, therefore, only add that if any of your readers would like to see me when I am in London to discuss these matters, and will write me a line to say so, I shall be happy to appoint an early day for the purpose, and will give them notice of the same, either by letter, or advertisement in the "Times" newspaper.

SHEEPFARMING REFORMS.

San Nicolas, June 6, 1869.

To the Editors of the "Standard."

As sheepfarming is at present at a very low ebb, a fact which most of your readers know to their sorrow, and the universal cry is: 'what will we do with it, or how will we make it pay,' I hope you will give the following remarks, the result of several years' experience in the camp, a place in your valuable columns.

My remarks apply to those who are willing to put their shoulders to the wheel, and strive to make sheepfarming remunerative; not to those who are contented to do as their fathers did before them, sitting still, making their moans about the fall in the price of wool, and declaiming against Government to every passer-by. The sooner such parties wind up their affairs and turn their attention to something more congenial to their tastes and habits, the better for themselves and the sheepfarming community at large.

My ideas are:

1st. Throw more capital into the business.

2nd. Have a boiler in size according to the number of stock.

3rd. Introduce English rams, and breed as much, if not more, for tallow than for wool.

4th. Have only one lambing in the year, say from the 1st of March to the 25th of May; this to be regulated according to position and circumstances. By doing this one will be able to part out all the 'borregas' after shearing (to be kept apart, or put in a capon flock till of a proper age to take the ram,) and to pick out any old or inferior ewes for the vat, without the fear of unmothering lambs. I also find that the spring lambs, which can never be all shorn, are, during the winter, the most liable to take the scab, which, until a scab law is passed, we can never wholly eradicate but may partially prevent.

Undoubtedly, many of your readers when they see this will scout at the idea of such things being practicable; perhaps so; my answer to such is, every one has his own say, this is mine.

I remain,

Gentlemen,

One who believes in the good old proverb of putting "A stout heart to a stey brae."

ON 'CHANGE.

June May 14th 1860.

Ounces	400
Sovereigns,	122½
Patacones,	25
National Bonds	58¾

Bonds opened very flat to-day and some of the head bulls were caught selling, but only a trifling amount, yet it had its effect particularly amongst the smaller brokers who believing that the reaction had commenced offered to sell largely. The cash sales amounted to 15.000, opening at 58 1/2 and closing at 58¾. One well known English broker offered to sell in the liquidation one lot of 50,000 at 58 1/2 but there were no buyers. The sales for the end of June amounted to 270,900, opening at 59¼, selling down to 58¾, then taking a run up to 59, again falling off to 58 1/2 and closing at 58¾. In the liquidation sellers were offering for this date at 58 1/2, and some sales were effected. For July 31st, 121,000 sold at 57 1/8, closing at 56¾. Total sales 417,500.

The business of to-morrow will greatly try this market. Some uneasiness was caused by a broker stating that, in consequence of some of his constituents not paying up, and failing to give any guarantee, he would in all probability be unable to meet his engagements on the 30th inst. It appears that he has sold close on 200,000 Bonds short, at prices averaging 55 and 56. The Bond market may be regarded as extremely critical at the moment. Many regard the decline to-day as a keen operation of the Bulls themselves, who, unwilling to stretch the cord too tight, sold a few thousands to-day, but with the object of ultimately driving up prices higher.

There was something said on 'Change about the propriety of the Provincial Bank raising the rate of interest; but this report has been frequently spread without the slightest foundation and purely for speculative purposes, therefore few attach any importance to it.

The telegram from Montevideo announces a small surprise fight, in which the Government cavalry was completely routed by Caraballo's men caused much attention, and proved that as yet things are far from an arrangement in the Banda Oriental.

The meeting on the Bolsa slightly interrupted business. It was very well attended, and a full report of which we reserve for to-morrow. The result was that the members of the Bolsa voted for the Bolsa to remain where it is, making the necessary improvements and enlargement, and fully authorising the committee to petition Government for the abolition of the export duties.

In the Once de Setiembre the following were the sales:

800 ar	J. M. Trelles	38
1200 ar	J. H. Cantero	38
600 ar	F. G. Soriano	45
800 ar	Rufino Carabal	40

The sale of the Barraca de Baudrix to Mr John Malcolm was announced to-day at 270,000 dollars m/c.

There is a good deal said about the army business, and it is generally believed on 'Change that there are some probabilities of a change in the contractors.

The Galgo, taking a supplemental mail for the packet, left this afternoon for Montevideo, thanks to the attention of Sr. Paranhos, the Brazilian Minister.

Paper money in Montevideo to-day was quoted at 87½ and 87¾. The Spanish corvette Concepcion has arrived there.

Parties in the hay and horse business are actively engaged night and day in shipping. This is the brisket branch of bussiness at present in this market.

The sale of a valuable site in Calle Veinte Cinco de Mayo, near the Plaza, at reserved rates, has been announced.

Respecting the English money market we have the following:—

The 'Economist" is of opinion that we are at the end of the plethora in the money market, and that we may shortly look not only for a return of prosperity, but for a revival of the excitement which was so prevalent before the panic year.

But, says our contemporary, before we all commence once more one of those periodical attempts to make our fortunes in the city, which seem to end in everybody losing everything and nobody but Higgs being a gainer, it may be as well to make an earnest appeal to fathers of large families and old ladies with small savings to have the goodness, if possible to keep out of the coming struggle. However, much in our new born zeal for honesty, we may blame promoters and directors, we must not forget there would be no knaves without fools, and it is not always easy in the fray to discover where the fool ends and the knave begins; besides which, although it adds to the excitement of the money market even that sensitive institution the Stock Exchange cannot watch unmoved the innocent gambling of those unsophisticated lambs, whom the requirement of "commercial activity" render it necessary to fleece without mercy, when they bring the few sovereigns they possess to sacrifice at the shrine of mammon. It is a harsh suggestion, but we cannot doubt it would have a wholesome effect if, in addition to punishing a few directors, we could send to prison one or two clergymen whose love of speculation has brought ruin and misery on all belonging to them. An old governess sentenced to six weeks' hard labour for losing her savings in the share market might be a sorry spectacle, but it would probably keep many other aged ladies out of the workhouse, would lighten the burden of the ratepayers, and be in the long run, a mercy.

At the extraordinary meeting of the Buenos Ayres Great Southern Railway Company, on May 7, the directors announced that there was every prospect of a dividend being shortly declared. Certain resolutions were agreed to, in reference to the working of the line, and the creation of debenture stock in place of the present permanent debentures.

At the meeting of the Anglo-Argentine Company the directors submitted their first report which was adopted unanimously; the general feeling of the shareholders being that large profits will soon be realised.

As usual on Monday very few transactions at the South Plaza. We noted the following sales:—

Wool.

1 lot of very fine lambs wool from Magdalena sin carretilla, sold at 55 ar.

Another lot cargada de caratillla at 35.

Sheepskins.

1 lot of very fine sheepskins, matadero de la est at at 95 per doz.

SAVINGS BANK
BANK MAUA AND Co.
101--Cangallo--103
BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that very important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling. in lotteries, and other frivolities

The Bank of Mauá & Co. of this city, following the noble example of their firm in Montevideo, now offer the same facilities in this city, and has opened a Savings Bank at No 103 Calle Cangallo from Nine a.m. till Three p.m. every day, for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned, Sundays an holidays excepted.

The Bank will deliver to each depositors a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interes will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighborhood.

Buenos Ayres, 2nd January, 1867.
